

Contents – Volume II

Lia Maklokek – Prefácio – Foreword – Prakata	4
1. Introduction Clinton Fernandes	6
1975 – 40 years on	7
2. We've been spying on you for decades: ASIO and the early Australian solidarity movement Bob Boughton, Deborah Durnan and Antero Benedito da Silva	8
3. Blood sacrifice at Balibo: Australia as a 'party principal' Clinton Fernandes	16
4. The emergence of an East Timorese women's movement Hannah Loney	20
5. Life and death in the mountains of Timor-Leste: the case of Ponta Leste Estêvão Cabral	25
6. Occupation and resistance: primary sources in East Timor history, 1975-1989 John Waddingham	29
7. Benedict Anderson and the independence of Timor-Leste Arnold Kohen	35
8. Your friends do not forget you: early Australian activism on the 'Timor issue' 1975-1979 Michael Clancy	39
9. The anti-FRETILIN hit list, secret briefings and the co-option of Australian foreign policy, 1974-1975 Peter Job	44
10. Foreign Minister Willesee's policy: Searching for a solution based on the will of the Timorese Tomohiko Kimura	49
11. Hawks and doves: The United Kingdom and the Indonesian invasion of East Timor Warren Evans	54
12. The FRETILIN literacy manual of 1974-75: an exploration of early nationalist themes Michael Leach	60
13. 'To think about the school and its issues is a right and a duty': Decolonising the education system in East Timor in 1975. António Barbedo de Magalhães	68
14. As eleições de 1975 para as comissões executivas locais e regional: Uma contribuição para a história da democracia em Timor-Leste Manuel Luís Real	79
15. A primavera de 1974 em Portugal e Timor na boca dos leões Vicente Paulino	91
16. Pensar nos problemas da Escola é um direito e um dever: a descolonização do ensino em Timor em 1975 António Barbedo de Magalhães	96